Weymouth. Nov 5. 1838.

Dear Debora, I hardly think you have returned, but as there is a chance, will write a word or two, to say that if you have, you must send out by Canfield to night conformably to my directions Saturday. Aunt Phebe has been quite sick, a pain in her side, difficulty of breathing etc, but is now better. She rest as usual. If in my letter to A. G. Weld you see nothing to disapprove seal it & carry it to the office. The Norfolk. A.S. meeting is to be holden a week from Tuesday. Shall you not come down by that time? A. A. Phelps is to be there, so Mr Perkins has announced, but I know of no one else. So John is put up for Senator. Don't you feel sorry to think you were no more agreeable when he was at Weymouth. If you can manage it, so as to get any good man, no jeering, down to the Lunsterly meeting you can. I shall depend upon hearing to night. It was bad enough to be disappointed Saturday night.

All pretty well.

Yrs in haste AHW
